Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (Financial),—dated 9th July 1881.

READ—

Letter from the Comptroller in Mysore No. 1172, dated 4th July 1881.

No. 3073—73, DATED 9TH JULY 1881.

ORDER THEREON.—The calculations given in the above to show that half pay pensions are more expensive to Gov ..ment than gratuities of one month's pay for each year of service, based as they are on the assumed low rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent interest, cannot be accepted as conclusive. Moreover the resolu ion to substitute pensions instead of gratuities in the case of inferior servants of more than 30 years' service was arrived at on other public grounds. With regard to gratuities, the proposed rate of half month's pay for each year of service to servants of not less than 5 years' service, is decidedly more favorable than the gratuities allowed in British Territory and which were in force in this Province also up to 1870. The subsequent substitution of other Rules for a short period does not render it necessary that in now revising the Rules, the servants already in the service should be allowed the option of election in the matter. As already observed, the terms now proposed are more favorable to them than those prevailing in British Territory and which were in force in this Province prior to 1870.

2. The Dewan, therefore, with the sanction of His Highness the Maha Raja, directs that the Rules laid down in Proceedings dated the 30th May 1881 in regard to gratuities and pensions to inferior servants on a salary of Rs. 10 and under, be applied to all Civil Establishments inclusive of the Police, excepting the Police of the Bangalore Town, in regard to which separate orders will be hereafter issued, and that the rates of gratuities for service under 30 years therein laid down be modified as follows:—

For servants with service of less than 5 years.	Nil.
For servants with 5 years' service, and upwards up to 30 years.	Half month's pay for each year of service.

3. The Rules in force in regard to gratuities and pensions of the superior servants in the Civil Department will likewise be applied to superior servants in the Police.

4. These orders are to apply to servants retiring subsequent to the date of the Proceedings of the 30th May 1881, published in the Mysore Gazette.

GENERAL.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maha Raja of Mysore, (General),—dated 27th July 1881.

No. 3485-92—90, DATED 27TH JULY 1881.

ORDER.—The prospects of the season which were hitherto uncertain in the Maidan parts of the Province are becoming decidedly unfavorable. There is but a short time left for the sowing of the great staple grain of ragi, and should there not be an abundant fall of rain within the next few days, there can be but a small area of ragi cultivation upon which the people of the Province are dependent for their food and there must be a local famine of some severity. It is true that the crops of the year are harvested and become available for consumption only in the latter part of the year, and that it is the previous year's stock which is consumed till then; and in this there has been no deficiency. Rather it is believed that the available stock will be found larger than usual owing to the great decrease in the miscellaneous classes of the population occasioned by the last famine. But as a rule the larger stocks are held only by the more substantial ryots and a great many of the poorer ryots depend on their well-to-do neighbours for loans of grain earlier in the year. Such loans however are not likely to be readily advanced when the prospects have turned so unfavorable. Moreover the cholam crop and the gid-ragi which in several parts are earlier harvested and which partially supply food early in the year have proved in the present year more or less a complete failure.

2. Under these circumstances there is every reason to apprehend that the Government will have to face the effects of a partial famine though not so severe as in 1876 when there were failures in successive years. The masses of the miscellaneous population upon whom such distresses fall earliest and with the greatest severity were to a considerable extent swept away during the last famine, so that the numbers of people for whom work will require to be found are not by any means likely to be so considerable as on the last occasion. It will nevertheless afford considerable relief to the miscellaneous classes as well as to the poorer ryots if the means of earning livelihood on public works were thrown open to them in different parts of the Province. The Dewan requests that the Deputy Commissioners will early favor him with their views and proposals on the subject giving a detailed account of the state of the season, the condition of the people, the extent of grain stock available and the extent of the population who are likely to be in distress and seek employment on public works, and the works which, in communication with the Executive Engineers, they would propose to undertake.

3. It is in contemplation to undertake the line of Railway from Bangalore to Tumkúr, and, if necessary, on to Tiptúr, as a work which will afford employment to a large number of laborers in the neighbourhood of taluks where the failure of the rains has been the greatest. The Deputy Commissioners of the Bangalore and Tumkur Districts are requested to state whether it will be necessary or desirable to put this work on hand at once, or to wait till the later cultivation operations are over. It is presumed that in the event of the rains falling even as late as the latter part of August, it will enable the ryots to sow horse-gram extensively and that the Vaisakha paddy which is extensive in the above Districts is dependent on the N. E. monsoon in September, October and November. These operations must give occupation to a considerable portion of the ryots till the latter end of the year, but there may be still many for whom it may be beneficial to throw open public works at once.

4. An evil noticed in the last famine was the emigration of people to the coffee districts far beyond their requirements and their return afterwards without employment, greatly aggravating their distress. The Deputy Commissioner of Mysore through whose District these emigrants pass should watch the emigration, make enquiries amongst the emigrants and dissuade them from such objectless wandering, intimating to them that work will be found for them nearer their homes. Such enquiries, however, will be best made in an unofficial manner by means of men of the ryot class or other private individuals in whom the emigrants are likely to have confidence. Any appearance of official interference with them should be most carefully avoided.

5. Information in regard to the supply of drinking water and pasture for cattle will also be required. These however will be affected by the fall of rain in the N. E. monsoon.

6. It is particularly requested that the enquiries on the subject may be made in a quiet manner so as not to excite any alarm amongst the people.

Secretary.
